PLAYHOUSE

Preface

nce upon a time, in a town of crazy people, a sober King and a beautiful Queen proclaimed their kingdom fun, fantasy and fabulousness. Come on and lift your glass You've won your own free pass. A houseful of peculiar things. All you have to do is play, taste and sing.

Play By House Rules

The Queen's Speech

Before you dwell further, please be advised. My kingdom, like others, has rules to keep peace at bay. The fate of those who break the rules is unknown!

I. Dwellers must prove that they are 18 or above upon entering.

II. Any person whose general dress is of an untidy nature will not be permitted into my kingdom. Hats are also considered inappropriate.

III. Playfulness and civil behaviour is widely encouraged.

IV. There shall be no breaking, damaging or stealing of things in my residence. Fail to do so and it will be off with your head!

V. Stress and disrespect to others are considered treason.

VI. Political discussions and activities are also considered treason.

VII. Any person who is in a state of drunkenness or under the influence of drugs will not be permitted to gain entrance.

VIII. It's a playhouse, not a war zone - offensive weapons are therefore not allowed.

IX. You can find my puppets throughout the house should you seek assistance.

X. I do not wish for people to know about my kingdom, so please keep the noise low and avoid disturbing nearby residents when departing.
